SUNDAY LAW MENACE

ADVENTISTS AT NAPA HEAR ABOUT RELIGIOUS LIBERTY AND ARMAGEDDON

NAPA, July 27.—Sunday laws, and the teaching of religion in the public schools, which are being promoted by church federations, are a menace to American liberty and the stability of American principles, according to W. F. Martin, of Santa Ana, religious liberty secretary of the Pacific Union Conference of the Adventists. He delivered several interesting addresses in the mammoth canvas pavilion of the Adventist camp-ground, at the Union Garden grounds, on North Brown street, here.

"Keep the church and state forever separate," urged Mr. Martin. "The business of the public schools is to train children and youth to make good citizens. It is not their business to teach religion. Men and women of all creeds and religions compose the state. Introduce into the public schools religious teaching, and conflict is certain upon the question, 'What religion shall we teach?' When the United States Supreme Court is called in as the final arbiter, we shall have a state established religion, with the government saying what men shall believe, and what they shall not believe. Every person is accountable to God alone for his religious belief. The church needs neither the state nor carnal weapons for its support. Christ said, 'My kingdom is not of this world.'"

Secretary Martin is one of half a score of able speakers who have been addressing the crowds here the past week. Dr. P. T. Magay of Loma Linda, Cal., an orator of great ability, delivered a thrilling address on "Armageddon and the European War," last Monday night. E. E. Andross, of Los Angeles, president of the Pacific Union Conference of the Adventists, spoke to a crowded tent last Sunday night on "The Downfall of Turkey, What It Means to the World." He said that Constantinople and Asia Minor, the territory through which a great highway from Europe to India and the Orient must pass, are the prize for which the European nations are fighting in the present awful war.

With the aid of a large colored map of the world, the speaker proved that the prophecies of Daniel II have been accurately fulfilled. Without showing partiality either to the Allies or the Central Powers, he said Turkey will plant its capital at Jerusalem, Christ will be enthroned king in heaven, and when Turkey comes to its end, without the help of the Powers, Christ will return to earth, and then will occur the resurrection of many thousands of righteous beings who have died from the creation of the world until now. President Andross quoted Daniel 11:44, 45 and 12:1, 2 as proof of his statements.

The music is being made a special feature of the annual encampment. The solo work of Ernest Lloyd, of Glendale, is much appreciated. The size of the tent city is being augmented by many visitors from St. Helena Sanitarium and Pacific Union College, as well as those from Santa Rosa, Healdsburg and other places. Every tent on the grounds is crowded, and some have taken rooms at Napa hotels and rooming houses, for the time of the meetings. The sessions will continue daily until and including Sunday, July 30.

COLORADO PEOPLE WANTED

All the Colorado folks are wanted at the big all Southern California picnic to be held in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, August the 5th, 1916, all day, with basket picnic dinners at noon.

Bring your dinners with cup and spoon, coffee will be supplied. There will be county registers so you can find your friends and a program in the afternoon with a jolly good time all day.

Pass the word along to old friends so as to make this the best ever.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday evening, 7:45, at the Presbyterian church, corner Broadway and Cedar street, S. W. Grathwell of Stanford University will speak on the "Challenge to Christian Citizenship." Mr. Grathwell is a noted Prohibition orator, and has been called "The John B. Gough of the Pacific coast." Three times he has won the Oregon State Oratorical contests. A winner of the Interstate Oratorical contest, he also won on the Intercollegiate debate team, 1915.

He is certainly a convincing, convicting and converting speaker. Don't fail to hear him next Sunday evening. The invitation to this service is a general one.

NAMING OF GLENDALE

B. F. PATTERSON RECALLS THE DAYS WHEN THIS CITY WAS CHRISTENED

"There are still a few of the old-timers of Glendale left," said B. F. Patterson, of Belmont street, who is an old-timer himself. "These are men and women who came into the valley when there was no Glendale and no Tropico. They saw the advent of the Southern Pacific railway. They have watched the developments ever since and have witnessed the growth of this fine city on the desert site. In 1883 when I myself came into the valley there was no city—nothing but a few big ranches and a few scattered houses where now is this busy center of civic life.

"Among the quiet orange groves at the base of the mighty hills came one day a clever artist from New York city. This lady, whose name I cannot recall at the present moment, was a cripple. It seemed that her very disability had redoubled her artistic gift. She was in love with nature and had been fortunate enough to have aroused the interest of Mrs. Moore, wife of Col. Moore, who had a large ranch here at that time.

"This artist had been invited to this center by Mrs. Moore in order that she might enjoy the wonderful climate and recuperate her health, which was somewhat feeble from long dwelling in cities. She came and went into raptures over the situation of this place. She made many sketches of the various scenes of beauty in and about the valley and in particular painted one picture of Glendale with the hills in the background that greatly pleased every one who saw it.

"I and others of the settlers thought it would be a good thing to secure this fine painting for the district; but the artist would not part with it. She knew its value too well. We would never have been able to pay the sum she knew she could get for it in New York. So the picture went to New York and was sold for a large sum.

"When the question of naming the city that had sprung up rather unexpectedly at the foot of the hills came up for discussion, it was suggested that as none of us could agree on a name that the artist should be asked to aid in the settlement of the question. She was asked and without hesitation suggested 'Glendale,' which as a descriptive topographical name was at once adopted.

"That was in 1884. In 1885 the question of naming what is now Tropico came up. The Southern Pacific had just built its line through there and had suggested that some of the residents send in names for the station. Suggestions were not very numerous. Five or six names had been sent in and none of them pleased the company. Some one of the engineers of the road who had been in the tropics, I believe, sent in the name, Tropico, which, as euphonious and semi-descriptive, was adopted at once.

"Both places have thriven ever since and justified the settlers who saw in them a kind of Garden of Eden. Their fertility never failed and they are gradually becoming known as centers of intelligence and progress. I look to see Glendale and Tropico one city before very long; but the name Tropico and the name Glendale will never be lost. Like all names they will become historical monuments in days to come."

WEEDS CLEANED UP

The work of destroying the weeds on the vacant and other lots in Glendale has been completed and the work, its extent and its cost, will be ready for the city trustees on Thursday, Aug. 3. It is possible at this time to state that judging from last year's experience the work of destroying the weeds will have cost the people about $2000. The city alone will have spent about $1200 on the work. The rest of the expenditure has been made by private parties.

Though the work has been completed as far as possible there are still a few odds and ends to be cleaned up.

From what the city officials have seen of the vacant lots they have come to the conclusion that some provision should be made to have all the vacant lots cultivated and productive. It would be easy to make an asset and not an expense out of the vacant lots by planting them with barley, oats, kaffir corn, rye, potatoes or some other profitable crop. Many did so this year and realized considerable profit out of the ground. This use of the vacant lots might easily be extended.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday; cloudy along the coast; westerly winds.

CALIFORNIA OFFICERS TO LEARN AVIATION

WAR OFFICE DETAILS REGULAR ARMY AIR SQUAD FROM TEXAS TO TEACH MILITIAMEN TO FLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NOGALES, July 27.—The war office has given instructions to an air squad from the regular army to proceed at once to the military camps on the border to teach a limited number of militia officers the art of flying. There are numerous aspirants for the aviation instruction but the government will accept only those most fitted by physical and mental qualifications.

HEAT WAVE PERSISTS IN CHICAGO

TEMPERATURE AT CHICAGO MOUNTS TO 100 DEGREES—THREE DEATHS FROM THE HEAT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, July 27.—The mercury climbed to 100 degrees here today. The humidity is extreme. Thousands are spending the nights at the various beaches on the lake front. The indications are that the temperature will go higher. There has been much suffering among the poor. Three deaths occurred as the direct result of the heat wave today.

DEUTSCHLAND PLANS TO OUTWIT ENEMIES

GERMAN MERCHANT SUBMARINE RESORTS TO ALL MANNER OF TRICKS TO DECEIVE WATCHERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BALTIMORE, July 27.—All the conflicting reports concerning the Deutschland that have been so freely published are tricks and devices for the bewilderment of the British and French watchers on shore and on sea. Something happened this morning, however, as the managers of the vessel countermanded the order for the vessel to go out overnight. The Deutschland is therefore still lying at her dock. The British squadron is still outside the Cape and the French cruisers are somewhere in the offing. It was impossible to obtain information from the managers of the Deutschland.

GERMANS PREPARE GREAT COUNTER ATTACK

TEUTONS TO MAKE ATTEMPT TO RECAPTURE POSITIONS TAKEN BY BRITISH AT POZIERES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, July 27.—Within the next few days the British advanced line at Pozieres must withstand very powerful counter attacks on the part of the Germans, who have been massing hundreds of thousands of troops for that purpose. Some of these troops are said to have been taken from the Verdun reserve. The attack will be made on Pozieres, which the Australian-New Zealand contingent captured yesterday, completing the clearing out of the Germans and starting the work of consolidating their position. The foreign attaches with the British army are of the opinion that the Germans will attack Pozieres and several prominent German authorities concur in the opinion.

DENIES CRUISER ENTERED CHESAPEAKE BAY

BRITISH COMMANDER OF SENTRY FLEET OFF VIRGINIA SAYS STRANGE VESSEL NOT HIS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador at Washington, informed the American State department today that the British officer in command of the squadron of vessels that is watching off the Virginia capes for the appearance of the German merchant submarine Deutschland on her way back to Bremen from Baltimore, indignantly denied that any of his vessels had entered Chesapeake bay. The mysterious vessel that signalled it was an "English cruiser" is as much of a mystery as ever.

TO RECRUIT 1000 ADDITIONAL GUARDSMEN

CALIFORNIA COMMANDERS RESOLVE TO FILL THE GAPS IN THEIR RANKS CAUSED BY REJECTION OF UNFIT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NOGALES, July 27.—The officers commanding the militia from California after a prolonged consultation this week determined to order the recruiting of one thousand additional guardsmen. These men will be used to fill the gaps in the ranks of the militia caused by the rejection of physically unfit candidates, those released as married men with dependents; and by the original shortage in the numbers of the enlisted men. It is likely that officers will be sent back to various points in California to act as recruiting officers.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE 6300 TEUTON TROOPS

PETROGRAD, July 27.—In the fighting subsequent to the great drive which brought Gen. Sakharoff's troops to within twelve miles of Brody, one of the approaches to Lemberg, the Russians captured 6300 Austro-Germans.

RIP VAN WINKLE SLEEP

GLENDALE REAL ESTATE MEN HAVE LOST FAITH IN BUSINESS

Many of the Glendale real estate men have been in a Rip Van Winkle sleep for the past year, and just whether they will have Rip's awakening or whether they will continue to sleep on forever is a question hard to decide. However, many real estate dealers of Glendale have lost faith in making sales, have closed the doors of their real estate offices, engaged in other lines of business or have temporarily gone to the mountains or the beach for a few weeks' recreation. The Evening News has it from good authority that numerous inquiries have been made by prospective buyers for prices of real estate, terms, etc, east of Glendale avenue but there is nobody to give these prospective buyers reliable information. There is property for sale in that section of Glendale but it is hard to find who owns it, for what price it may be bought or the terms. In fact a man who would come to that section of Glendale intending to buy property would have to work pretty hard to persuade owners of property that he really wants to buy. A lack of faith seems to be the main trouble.

Conditions in the Brand boulevard section are not much better. It was only this morning a moneyed man was walking around with six or seven thousand dollars in his pocket looking for a good buy. When he finally decided upon a desirable piece of property he found the owner or the agent was not in Glendale but was enjoying an outing at the beach. The time has come when real estate men have so little faith in making sales that when they see a stranger entering their office they make their escape by the rear door to avoid spending what they consider any unnecessary time talking to a man that is really not prepared to do business. A lack of faith—that's all.

THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 S. Maryland avenue is entertaining today with a theatre party in honor of her cousin, Miss Ann Henratty of Erie, Pa., who is her guest, and Miss Harriett M. Wells, who is soon to be a bride. Invited guests are Mrs. Richard H. Wells, Mrs. James L. Flint, Mrs. C. E. Lauler, Mrs. Gus Pulliam, Miss Gladys Justema, Miss Barbara Mitchell, Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Mrs. W. S. Rattray, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and Miss Myrtle Pulliam of Glendale; Miss Edna Buggeln, Mrs. Arthur Hayt, Mrs. Adam Underwood, Mrs. Lester Bennett, Mrs. E. R. Collins of Los Angeles and the hostess' mother, Mrs. C. H. DuBois. The party is being entertained at the Symphony Theatre on Broadway, Los Angeles, which is owned by Mrs. Beamon's father, Mr. DuBois, and the Art club of Los Angeles is preceding the regular bill with a special program.

MUSICALE AND RECEPTION

Music and song characterized the pleasing reception given by Miss Ione Virden, 235 Mira Loma avenue, Monday night, in honor of Miss Alice Teague of Santa Paula. The rooms were decorated in pink and white. Throughout the evening Miss Melicent Virden, Herbert Henning and others delighted the company with piano music. The young people had a charming time. Ice cream and cake were served. Those present were: Carol Willisford, Aldine Norton, Katharyne Green, Marjorie Zander, Josephine Buckley, Minnie Cauch; the last three young ladies were visitors from Santa Paula; Melicent Virden and Rose Virden. The young men present were: Robert Kolts, Tom Phillip, Edwin Heacock, William Renshaw, Ralph Paine and Benjamin Small.

ACTIVITIES OF KALEM

The Kalem Company is very busy these days working on the sixth episode in "The Girl from 'Frisco." This episode is styled "The Treasure of Cibola" and concerns a marvelous hoard of gold vessels, ornaments and jewels, deposited in the fifteenth century, by the ancient Aztecs, in a secret place, to preserve it from the Spanish invaders under Cortez. Part of the scenes will be set amid the background of "The Painted Desert," the wonderful exhibit at the San Diego Exposition. The Railroad company, which had a spectacular scene staged on Saturday at their recently erected "depot," near Howard and Second street, are planning another scene of similar nature at the same place on Saturday, July 29.

GIVE ZEPPELIN PARTY

MRS. GOODMAN PHILLIPS AND MISS EVA DANIELS ENTERTAIN AT UNIQUE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Goodman Phillips and Miss Eva Daniels entertained Wednesday afternoon at their home at 1434 Colorado boulevard, in honor of Mrs. Edward Martin, who is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McKee. Mrs. McKee is the wife of Dr. Edward Martin of Covington, Indiana, and is spending the summer in Southern California with her five children.

When the guests arrived they noted at once a mysterious sign suspended from the fireplace which stated that at 3:30 p. m. there would be a flight of "infant Zeppelins." Promptly at the hour named a large number of brilliantly colored toy balloons floated into the room and there was a battle royal at once. Soon the entire fleet had been captured and it was found that they carried bombs in true Zeppelin manner. The bombs were attached to each balloon and when opened were found to contain anecdotes of experiences of the various guests in the past week or so. They were written in such a witty manner and were in themselves of so amusing a nature that they were greeted with shouts of laughter.

Then an hour of music was enjoyed. Mrs. Thomas Cappell sang several selections including a beautifully rendered number from "Madame Butterfly." Miss Helen Olsen played several selections on the piano and also sang most delightfully to her own accompaniment. Mrs. George Lyons gave several piano numbers and the hostess' little daughter, Miss Reba Phillips, played the "Humoresque" by Dvorak very cleverly and was complimented by everyone for the progress she has made in the short time that she has been studying.

The guests then adjourned to the dining room and were served a delicious collation. The places were marked by placecards of large velvety pansies. The living room and music room were decorated with masses of the most beautiful dahlias from the garden of Mrs. Salo Desky. The variety of rare and unusual specimens made a display that would have to be seen to be appreciated. It was hard for the guests to leave, so much were they enjoying the good time, and it was nearly 6 p. m. before the party broke up.

The guests included Mrs. Edward Martin, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Andrew Wightman, Mrs. Edward Kendall, Mrs. David Bennett, Mrs. George Daniels, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. T. Cappell, Mrs. L. E. Gould, Mrs. Perce H. Curtis, Mrs. George Lyons, Mrs. Purser, Miss Helen Olsen, Mrs. Salo Desky, Mrs. Plummer Van Sant, and last but by no means least, little Helen Daniels and baby Betty Fay Van Sant.

MUNICIPAL BAND CONCERT

Glendale Municipal band will give its seventh concert of this season at the city hall, on Broadway near Glendale avenue, Friday night, July 28, at 8 p. m. It is expected that this will be one of the best attended of these enjoyable concerts. Up to this point the attendance of the public has been gratifying. Usually the streets are lined with automobiles and hundreds of citizens form an audience that is at once critical and satisfied. Under the able direction of F. E. Thorp, the band has steadily improved in confidence and mastery of the various instruments. C. D. Furst, the manager of the organization, has done good work in securing excellent engagements for the band. The program for Friday night is as follows:

March, Semper Fidelis.....Sousa
Overture, Reception .....Schleppegrel
Waltz, Weddings of the Winds..Hall
Sacred Potpouri, Joy to the World
..... Barnhouse
Chilian Dance, Manana.....Missud
March, Crimson Flush.....Alexander

TWO KILLED BY TRAIN

Mr. Sandusky of Pacoima and his nephew Marion Lockwood, who had been engaged in some business in the packing house there, loaded thirteen boxes of oranges on their automobile and started for San Fernando road, Thursday morning, about 10 o'clock. They were so occupied with their wagon that they did not notice a Southern Pacific train, the Owl No. 26, which was running considerably behind time and which was then nearing Pacoima, two miles south of San Fernando. The two men drove directly in front of the fast train and were instantly killed. The auto was thrown some distance from the track and badly smashed. The bodies were conveyed to the undertaking parlors of Scovern, Letton & Frey, Tropico.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1916

IN THE THEATER OF WAR

Those who read the daily newspapers must be greatly puzzled by the contradictory statements that appear in them from time to time regarding the progress of the war. Two days ago they all told of a strong offensive on the part of the Allies and of the taking of the German first and second lines of defense and the capture of part of the third line. Then came a strongly pro-German contradiction of all that had been stated during previous days and without comment or explanation a positive assertion that the Allies' attack was played out and that the Germans wou'd be in Verdun within two weeks and that the whole war would be over within five months.

Naturally the public is astonished, especially as there comes immediately afterward in the evening papers statements to the effect that the British and French offensive is not only continuing on the west front but that it is succeeding right along. The explanation is simply that the Germans always act in pursuance of their theory that anything that helps to discredit or dishearten the Allies or their supporters is justified and even though false becomes part of truth sanctified as it is by the necessities of the fatherland. These reports are part of the Teuton plan of campaign.

Six months have passed away since the kaiser announced and the crown prince assented that Verdun would be carried by assault within ten days. It is not likely that the French genius, General Joffre, and his wonderful assistants, Generals Petain, Nivelle and Foch, are going blindly into any part of this campaign, nor leaving any point untouched or unguarded whereby their country may be delivered from the foot of the foreign foe.

Joffre is the head and leader of the Allied troops. It is he who has held the British on the West front while the Germans wasted their strength and forces around Verdun. It is he who has thrown his forces against Picardy and given the great British forces the signal to come on. It is significant that while the Germans have been six months frittering away their strength against the defenses of Verdun, the French and the British in their first grand offensive have captured the first two lines of German defense in three days.

That of itself should be an object lesson to the Germans. The Germans have been unable to make the French retire within six months but the Allies in three days throw back the strong and courageous Germans five miles and capture their defenses pronounced by themselves "impregnable."

The Germans are now prophesying that no power on earth can possibly take their third line; but if the British manage to capture Bapaume all that part of the third line of the Teutons which is fed directly from Bapaume must perforce be abandoned. The French are likely to take Peronne, which is a road center also, though not nearly so vital a part of the German third line as Bapaume, the taking of which is the task before the British. This work is going on even now while the Germans are using their press influence to bewilder this people of the United States with stories that the Allied offensive has ceased.

As a matter of fact the Allied offensive is just beginning. Unless the onward march of the Allies can be stayed by the Germans at Peronne and Bapaume the Teutons must fall back all along their line northward to the ocean and perhaps southward as far as Noyon, in Picardy. There is also always the possibility that the Allies may roll up the German lines north or south. There is no use in saying this or that cannot be done; or this or that place is impregnable. What human hands have constructed, human courage can capture.

PREVENTION OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Prevention is better than cure. Those who remember the scare that pervaded Los Angeles and its environments a few years ago when an outbreak of poliomyelitis struck this district will appreciate the efforts that are being made at present by sensible people everywhere to reassure the people as to the possibility of avoiding this disease and its consequent mortality and the disabilities it so frequently leaves in those who recover. One of the most difficult elements to fight in endeavoring to control the disease is fear. To be afraid of the disease is to invite its attack, or rather to predispose oneself to becoming a developing medium for the germs.

This fear must be broken and people must approach the fight against this as against other maladies with a calm mind. It is also necessary to break the chain of infection between person and person. Those who are sick should be separated from those who are well. Infantile paralysis is probably caused by a very minute organism found in the nasal, mouth and bowel discharges of those who have the disease. Others may carry the germ without themselves suffering from the malady.

This is not a disease of recent origin. It has been known throughout the country for many years, having been found in isolated cases in almost every State. It is only of recent years, however, that it has assumed the proportions of an epidemic. The present epidemic in New York city, on account of its magnitude and virulence, has awakened the residents of many districts to the danger of the importation of the disease into their own midst. This danger is real, but if due precautions are exercised it is believed that the epidemic will subside.

The actual care and control of the epidemic must be left to the city, State and Federal health authorities. These organizations will properly quarantine and care for affected persons, prescribe sanitary measures and limit as may be necessary the travel of individuals in order to protect neighboring districts from the infection.

Poliomyelitis is probably spread directly or indirectly through the medium of infective secretions. Account must therefore be taken by every community of all the various mediums through which infection may be spread. The public drinking cup and drinking glass, expectoration in the streets, flies, roaches, and other vermin are all means of infection.

Strict cleanliness of the streets, yards and alleys is necessary in order to prevent the breeding of insects and other vermin. Assemblies of children in infected localities are to be discouraged if not actually forbidden. In New York the schools were closed and are still closed. These are general precautions and apply to many epidemic diseases; but they are of vital importance in the case of infantile paralysis.

It is absolutely necessary to have the aid of a physician at once and also to notify the health officer of the presence of the disease. If the disease is in the community a doctor should be sent for the moment anything is wrong with any child. Many cases of infantile paralysis begin with a slight indisposition. Should the illness prove to be infantile paralysis isolate the patient; place a competent person in charge and reduce all communication with the sick room to a minimum. A child may convey the disease to others according to the United States Health department, even after a lapse of several weeks. For this reason quarantine should be maintained for a considerable period, usually from six to eight weeks, and the above precautions should be observed along with ventilation of the sickroom, burning of all secretions, boiling of all clothing if not burning, disinfection by means of carbolic acid 5 per cent solution of all articles that have been in contact with the patient. Disinfection of dishes and drinking vessels and all other precautions necessary in infectious diseases should be taken.

TROPICO TRUSTEES' MEETING

The Tropico Board of Trustees met in regular session Tuesday evening at the city hall at 7:30 p. m., with President Frank E. Peters, Fred A. Alspach, Chas. H. Henry and Walter C. Seal present, and A. C. Boyce absent. The following city officers were also present: Margaret R. Coleman, clerk; Hartley Shaw, city attorney; I. C. Wasson, street superintendent; J. W. Gould, city marshal, and Dr. W. C. Mabry, health officer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The regular quarterly report of the Pacific Light & Power company was received and placed on file.

There being no written communications, oral communications were called for. Mr. G. A. Mushet of Hill street addressed the board in regard to the Hill street improvement, stating that he as well as several other residents in that locality were anxious to know what was being done or going to be done in the way of improving Hill street, also stating that it was very annoying and inconvenient to live on a street in an up-to-date city like Tropico and yet be unable to get in or out with any sort of vehicle. The city engineer stated that the matter had been held up for various reasons but he would have plans and specifications read for the board to act upon at the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Taylor of West Park avenue addressed the board in regard to an ordinance regulating the keeping of live stock within the city limits, and asked that the city marshal see that the ordinance was enforced as she was sure the privilege was being abused.

The city attorney reported for the attorney for Mr. Miller, who owns or claims to own the thirty-foot strip along Acacia street east of Adams street. This is the much talked of and disputed strip necessary for the opening of Acacia street east of Adams street. Mr. Miller's attorney stated that they would contest the title to the strip and could not see wherein Tropico had any title to the property in question.

Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Harvey were appointed to represent the city of Tropico on Candle Day at San Fernando August 6, to help raise funds to repair the old mission at that place.

The city marshal was instructed to enforce the city ordinance regulating the operating of motor busses in Tropico and to collect the $10 license fee from each of the four busses now plying between Park avenue and Brand and Los Angeles.

JUST WATCH HIM

There was an old fellow named Hughes

Now he's nominated,
And says, quite elated,
That silence is great stuff to ughes.

When this popular man named Charles Hughes
Stands at last in the President's shughes,
Carranza will fear,
Good times will be here,
And Wilson will sure have the blughes.

A writer in Popular Mechanics claims that roasted ostrich is a desirable delicacy. An ostrich killed for eating purposes brings the owner about one hundred dollars. A live ostrich can earn from fifty dollars to one hundred and fifty dollars a year for his owner, and can keep it up for fifty or seventy-five years. These facts make it unlikely that many ostriches will be eaten.—Exchange.

HE WAS A SUCCESS

And yet he died poor, unhonored, and unrecognized, and he rests in a forgotten grave; but he loved God, he loved his fellows, and he did his best to translate that love into service. And that is success. We misjudge men. We measure them by faulty standards. Fame is not an accurate measure, for sometimes it rests upon falsehood. History is not always true, and some little men have great reputations, and some great men are unknown. Education is no true test of success. The unlettered father is sometimes a much bigger man than his cultured son, and the Doctor of Divinity is often a lesser saint than some of his uneducated hearers. Mountain peaks and stars are grand, but they are no more useful nor beautiful than the blades of grass. To be just and merciful; to love and honor the truth; to be pure and kind and loving; to live our faith and help our neighbors, this is true success.—Christian Guardian.

A PICTURE

Pensive she stands upon the shore
And gazes at the view;
The greenish moonlight waver o'er
Her curling hair so blue!

What ponders she? Oh, is it why
The water is so white?
Or why the gorgeous eastern sky
Glows pink-and-rose at night?

Or why the skirt in which she's dressed
Blows eastward in the gale—
While yonder tugboat's smoke blows west
As straight as it can sail?

Mayhap the case of yonder yacht
Excites her maiden fears—
The man who sails it needeth not
A mainsheet, it appears!

(This lack enableth him to run
Straight north, before the wind—
That east-by-west breeze—O what fun!
He got most sailors skinned!)

To read her thoughts would be a sin,
To roast them would be mean;
Because I saw this picture in A Sunday magazine.
—Ted Robinson, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A man traveling in Maine met a middle-aged farmer, who said his father, ninety years old, was still on the farm where he was born. "Ninety years old. eh?" "Yep, Pop is close to ninety." "Is his health good?" "Tain't much now. He's been complainin' for a few months back." "What's the matter with him?" "I dunno; sometimes I think farmin' don't agree with him."

Personals

Mrs. Goodridge, 1340 W. Broadway, has returned from a two weeks' stay at the beach.

Mrs. C. W. Young and Amber Young, of Rock Glen avenue, are spending a week at Redondo beach.

Mrs. L. F. Kirri and Miss Merva Scott went to Long Beach Thursday to spend the day at the beach fishing.

Mrs. H. W. James of 1555 Penn street leaves Friday for Balboa, where she will spend a couple of months, by the sea.

Miss Clara Provolt, 608 N. Central avenue, is a guest of Miss Christine Schenck of Santa Ana. Miss Schenck is entertaining a large house party this week.

Ernest W. Lloyd of 715 W. Fifth street is a special soloist at the great Seventh Day Adventist convention at Napa, Cal., this week. His fine wor kis greatly admired.

MRS. NANNO WOODS desires listing from property owners east of Glendale avenue. Clients asking for improved and unimproved property vicinity of extension car line.

Captain A. Fleming of 137 Elrose street reports that he sold four hundred boxes of peaches the past season at $1 per box and thinks this speaks well for Glendale's soil and climate.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Parent-Teacher federation, held a meeting of the members of the board of that organization at her residence, 200 Orange street, for the purpose of discussing and arranging plans for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Westlake of 1458 Oak street entertained at dinner Tuesday Mrs. Emmet Diehm, a former Glendale resident. Mrs. Diehm's Glendale friends will be sorry to learn that she is planning to return soon to Cleveland, Ohio, her former home.

Mrs. B. T. Andrae and daughter Esther of 123 Orange street leave for the middle west today. They will be gone several months, making a short stay with relatives in Tulsa, Okla., and the remainder of the time in St. Louis and suburbs, this being their former home.

Miss McClintock of 1434 Oak St. had the misfortune on Wednesday afternoon to lose thirteen valuable canaries. In some unexplainable manner the door of the aviary became unfastened and all the birds escaped. One flew on the porch of the Daniels home at 1424 Colorado boulevard and Miss Eva Daniels had the presence of mind to carefully catch it but the rest are still at large.

Mr. E. Fuller of Goffs, Cal., who is interested with Mr. H. R. Sibley and Mrs. Sibley, 1517 Penn street, in the valuable tungsten mines at Goffs and in that vicinity, is on his way to Glendale to make final arrangements concerning the sale of the small amount of stock that has been put on the market for the purpose of financing the preliminary work. He writes that most of the preparatory work is now done and that the work of taking out the rich ore will shortly be begun.

FOOTHILL CLUB

Members of the Foothill club were delightfully entertained at their last meeting at the seaside summer home of Mrs. Julius Kranz at Hermosa, when Mrs. Kranz, assisted by Mrs. Charles Sanders, were hostesses to the club. Noonday luncheon was served at the Manhattan Inn where covers were laid for twenty-four at the pretty table decorated with bouquets of pink carnations banked with cool ferns. Following the luncheon all adjourned to the home of Mrs. Kranz where the afternoon was spent. A conversation party occupied a part of the afternoon, Mrs. William Porter being so fortunate as to win a handsome pincushion as the prize. The house decorations were also of pink carnations supplemented with other flowers of the season, and graceful ferns.

The members of the Foothill club are Mesdames William S. Porter, Joseph McMillin, Alexander Mitchell, N. C. Kelley, Joseph Larkey, Chas. H. Toll, W. P. Thompson, Richard L. Phister, William W. Stone, Walter J. Elliott, Mrs. Hunt, Alfred Priest, Chas. Richter, G. K. Barnes, Everette Barnes, Elliott B. Wyman, M. L. Oliver, Andrew Robinson, William Hewitt, Charles Sanders, Julius Kranz, Miss Ellen Williams and Miss Bardill.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. A. E. Landy of Los Angeles, Miss Barbara Mitchell and Miss Oliver of Glendale.

TO THE PUBLIC

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

Twenty-five children and seven adults spent another delightful afternoon yesterday in the Casa Verdugo section of the North Glendale foothills. At the extreme end of N. Louise street is a shady, cool retreat where, underneath tall eucalyptus trees, one can enjoy perfect peace, quietness and a beautiful view, yet remain within two short blocks of the street car and civilization. Here members and friends of the Bird and Flower club assembled to enjoy each other's company, to study nature, and to have a good time climbing the hills. Honor buttons for the most interestingly written descriptions of the previous trip were awarded to Dorothy Sherman, Dorothy Woods, Robert Tower and Ruth Head. For finding some unusual specimen of nature while climbing the hills, honor buttons were awarded Joy Willisford, who brought a spider's nest, and Gordon Richardson, who secured a young and perfect plant of yucca. The children are taught not to grab roughly at flowers or plants, not to ruthlessly destroy roots or bulbs; but to collect judiciously single specimens for educational purposes. In the same way, boys are forbidden to touch nests occupied by birds, or to take the eggs; they are taught that to steal the eggs is not alone a breach of State laws, but is a breach of chivalry—a transgressing of those unwritten laws which prevent the strong from imposing upon the weak.

Whilst the children, carefully looked after by the bigger boy and girl members, climbed the hills, Mrs. Nanno Woods led the grown-ups to a spot not far away, most easily accessible, from where a most glorious view was obtained of the inner recess of the brown velvety foothills, the city of Glendale, Tropico hills, Hollywood hills and Griffith park, and away up the San Fernando valley. Not one of the party had known of the existence of this easily accessible view point and all were charmed. The perfume of the sage brush, the rich browns, greens and golds of the hillsides, the numerous birds, mountain quail, mourning doves, etc., disporting themselves in the sunshine, all combined to make a perfect fairyland of delight.

A consultation with the children then took place as to the fate of the Bird and Flower club after summer vacation would be over; the original plan having been to meet during the summer holidays only. But the young people are so enamored of the club that they clamored to continue the club all the year round. So that, if at all possible, arrangements will be made to meet once a week the whole year round. In winter time flowers are more abundant than in summer; it is cooler, therefore easier to walk; and there are many migratory birds who spend the winter in California and fly back east in summer time. Therefore the attractions in winter time are as great if not greater than during the summer months.

The next meeting of the Bird and Flower club will be held next Wednesday. Members and friends to meet as usual at Headquarters, 1111 Broadway, at 2 o'clock sharp. The trip will be to Verdugo park. Car leaves Brand and Broadway at 2:15. Children will bring carfare. Children, adults, visitors, strangers, all lovers of mother nature in any of her many forms, are cordially invited to accompany the members on this expedition.

GLENDALE HORSE SHOE CLUB

Among the interesting games played recently on the grounds of the Glendale Horse Shoe club was one in which the combined ages of the four players amounted to 288 years, an average of 72 years each. The following were the players and the score:

Player	Age	Points	Ringers
Keim	66	69	22
Cornwell	77	40	14
Toman	71	16	5
Lank	74	22	4

Another game played on Wednesday, July 26, showed as follows:

	Points	Ringers
Porter	50	22
Blatchley	20	25
Head	78	44
Keim	33	15

These interesting games are attracting a great number of spectators.

TO SAVE SAN FERNANDO MISSION

San Fernando Mission church, on the site of which, Aug. 6, 1769, Father Crespi and his little company of Franciscans, camped and founded the mission—the first time Europeans had ever seen that beautiful valley, is rapidly falling into ruin. The old church needs a new roof. The rains of another winter will probably destroy the roof altogether if repairs are not made. On the anniversary of the discovery of the mission site and the founding of the mission, Aug. 6, 1916, it is proposed to hold a great celebration in honor of those devoted missionaries. This will be called "San Fernando Candle Day." Memorial candles will be sold for this occasion at $1 each. A great excursion by automobile and electric car will meet at the venerable mission. Suitable services will be held and the memorial candles will be lighted all at once, each in the name of its donor.

PACKER IN BURBANK

Stephen C. Packer of Glendale, candidate for supervisor of the Fifth Supervisoral district of Los Angeles county, visited Burbank Wednesday evening in company with a number of his friends and held a meeting at Horne hall. The meeting was called to order by G. B. Woodberry, president of the Glendale Packer club. The program opened with a piano solo by Herbert Henning. This was followed by remarks by A. T. Cowan of Glendale concerning Mr. Packer's fitness for the office which he seeks. Dr. Jessie A. Russell of Glendale spoke at length, explaining the duties devolving upon members of the Board of Supervisors and placed great emphasis on the importance of having the right kind of men on the board.

The candidate, Mr. Packer, in a very able address explained that he had not entered the race for this important office without giving it due consideration. He stated that he realizes that the Board handles a large amount of the county's money annually and it is his intention to advocate an administration of reasonable economy with progress.

Chairman Woodberry in introducing Mr. Packer explained the importance of the people of the San Fernando valley electing a supervisor as this section of the Fifth District has not been represented on the board for over twenty-five years.

Mrs. Mary Cable gave several readings and Mrs. William Herman West entertained with solos.

OPEN AIR MEETING

Mrs. Hyatt and Mrs. Bott were hostesses for the first open air meeting held by the West Glendale W. C. T. U. Tuesday afternoon. Chairs and tables were placed on Mrs. Bott's beautiful lawn, with rugs to accommodate the children, who had come out to hear the special program which was given by Miss Garstang and a number of Young Campaigners from Los Angeles. These young people were well drilled, and they gave a number of rally cries, which they use when marching. Two little girls were dressed to represent the Dutch girls on Old Dutch Cleanser and their song was about "helping Uncle Sam to make the map all white. "John Barleycorn, Goodbye," and "The Brewers' Big Horses" were among the songs sung. Miss Garstang gave an interesting talk on the valuable work which can be rendered by the children in the coming campaign, and mentioned the fact that the "wets" can scarcely send their children out to work for their cause.

Some steps were taken towards the organization of the children for the Young Campaigners' work.

In the absence of Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Ellen M. Cooke makes a most efficient president. Refreshments were served and 37 persons enjoyed this hospitable occasion.

VOLUNTEERS AT DRILL

There was a fair attendance at the volunteer drill held in the drill hall at the corner of First and Glendale Wednesday night. A number of members of the company who should have been in attendance were absent for various reasons. It is extremely important that members should attend regularly as the arrangements for the organization and equipment of the regiment from Los Angeles district are going on rapidly and those who are desirous of being included in the main body must fit themselves for the work which will be expected of them. It is expected that news of an important character concerning the equipment of the volunteers will shortly be received from Sacramento. There are also various indications that the volunteer body will shortly have demands made on it for thorough drill and future service. The military authorities are fully alive to the Preparedness situation and are looking forward to meet it.

Captain Johnson, assisted by various officers, put the company through squad and company drill Wednesday night. The company will assemble at the Fire house Friday evening at 7:40 p. m. and will be taken to the Tropico school grounds for drill with the section there. Autos will be provided.

VINE STREET BIRD CLUB

Tuesday evening, Mrs. James Begg of 1547 Vine street entertained the children of the neighborhood who call themselves the Vine Street Bird club. The first part of the evening was spent in writing descriptions of our common California birds or painting pictures of them. Then a little informal program was given in which Norman Begg read his description of the Black-headed Grosbeaks seen in a recent trip to Verdugo park.

Nell Hilbert read a selection about the Flycatcher class of birds to which our Black Phoebe belongs—a bird they had recently been observing. Walter Puffer told of finding a Towhee, or brown bird's, nest and gave a description of the eggs and baby birds which hatched from them.

Edgar Brown brought with him a mockingbird's nest in which he had found two dead baby birds. A cat had probably taken the mother and the babies were left to die. This nest caused much interest in studying its construction. The lining was horsehair, then came pepper-berry stems and lastly coarse weed stems in which was woven a strip of cloth recognized as a piece from the dress of one of the mothers present. Edgar had aiso noticed the hummingbird wipe its slender bill with a white thread-like tongue after gathering honey from the flowers, while Norman had discovered that this little bird eats tiny insects besides honeydews.

Dorothy Sherman read an interesting composition of her own on the mockingbird, in which she likened this laquacious, exuberant songster to our noted evangelist, Billy Sunday, who, when waxing enthusiastic becomes quite acrobatic.

Marjorie Sherman, Helen and Irene Robeson, Jack Hilbert and Harold Begg all participated in giving incidents or illustrations of bird ways and with the others joined in numerous gird games.

The youngsters were served delicious refreshments of cake and punch by their hostess, to whom they gave three rousing cheers. Announcement was made of the Garden society's Bird and Flower club for children and all were urged to attend the meeting the following day joining forces with them at La Ramada park.

TO AID WOOLWINE

With the announcement today of the personnel of his Executive Committee, the campaign of District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine for re-election is actively on. Every city and section of Los Angeles County is represented on this committee by prominent citizens who will wage an energetic campaign for the return of Mr. Woolwine to office. One of the notable facts brought out in support of the slogan "He has made good" is that many who in the last election worked tooth and nail against him, are prominent in the organization which is expected to re-elect him by an enormous majority. The committee is said to be the strongest non-partisan organization in the history of California politics. Among those on the Woolwine committee from this city are: G. W. Calkins, W. E. Evans, H. P. Coker, Mrs. Dovie Grist, R. M. Jackson, E. H. Kerker, S. A. Davis, J. Whomes, Mattison B. Jones, C. E. McPeak, Frank L. Muhleman, H. Nelson, A. C. Oliver, Claude O. Pulliam, I. H. Russell, J. W. Stauffacher, Dr. Jessie Russell, J. S. Thompson, John W. Usilton, T. W. Watson, Geo. B. Woodberry, Burt P. Woodward, George E. Williams, S. F. Worsley, F. H. Vesper.

In addition to those mentioned on the committee innumerable others from this city were signers of the nomination petition endorsing the candidacy of the district attorney.

ATTENTION YOUNG PEOPLE

All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 20 who live in Glendale and do not attend any Sunday School, are especially invited to be present at the First Methodist church, Third street and Dayton Court, July 30 and again August 6 at 9:40. Cut this article out and bring it with you to give to the usher at the door as it will entitle you to a reserved seat. Tue-Thur-Sat-t8

LITTLELANDS

At Old Tu Junga Homestead

A most delightful outing in the nature of a sunrise party was enjoyed last Friday morning by the members of the Friday Morning Round Table, their husbands and a few other guests. Mr. and Mrs. Heffleman and Mrs. Slavinsky were the hosts of the occasion. The start was made from Littlelands about 4 a. m. and on arriving at the home of the Heffleman's the party rested a short time before taking the trail across the ranch to the Fitzgerald place.

The trail is very abrupt in some places but ever the scene was one of beauty. A number of stops were made in order that everyone might get the full benefit of the different aspects of the view. On the way back the party stopped at Mr. Heffleman's tunnel where he has an abundance of clear mountain water and from which he gets his supply for irrigation and domestic use.

Arriving at the house the guests, to the number of 23, sat down to breakfast in the open air under a canopy of trees and awning. What makes the hospitality of this home so charming is the fact that every one feels perfectly at home and can do as he or she may please. After a delightful repast of which every one helped in some way, instead of the usual toasts and speeches each person present related his experience since coming to California and the actuating cause of his coming to this valley and the result. It was hard to tell who was having the happiest time—hosts or guests—everyone seemed to be enjoying every thing. The whole morning was one of pleasure which will not soon be forgotten.

The meeting of the Bee club is postponed for one month unless called by the president.

Mr. C. M. Cary, sister-in-law of Mrs. Ben Clark, who was a recent guest at the Clark home, has returned to San Diego.

The Woman's Guild of the Littlelands Episcopal church was organized June 27, 1916, with an excellent membership for so small a parish. The following officers were appointed for the year by Rev. Rinison: Mrs. Shoner, president; Mrs. Fortiner, vice-president; Mrs. McCue, treasurer; Mrs. Mendenhall, secretary. Active members are: Mesdames Johnston, Maygrove, Pond, Bates, Morgan, Chase, Reed, Powell, Culorer, Thomasson, Behrins and Miss Shoner. Miss Godfrey of La Canada and Mrs. Bean of Los Angeles enrolled as honorary members.

Miss Gertrude Van Battum arrived home the first of the week from Long Beach, whither she had gone for an outing with the Mehards and their sister and niece, Mrs. and Miss Burns, of Erie, Pennsylvania.

Mr. C. A. Mathews of Needles, Cal., brother of Mrs. Wakefield, is visiting with the family this week. So also is her son. Mr. Wakefield, Sr., was an over Sunday guest of his family.

For a community to air its differences and troubles in the face of outside communities is like a family airing its differences in public. The public is not edified and nothing is added to the prestige of the community or family that makes such a grievous mistake. We have in our colony an institution—the town meeting—where everything and anything pertaining to the welfare of the community may be thoroughly discussed and anyone in the colony may take part in any discussion—the aim being to keep the meetings absolutely democratic.

Woman's Club Entertainment

The Woman's club will hold an entertainment one week from Friday night, August 4. No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be taken. Ice cream and cake will be served. The proceeds will be given to swell the flag fund.

The Ladies' Aid society meets Thursday, August 3, at the home of Mrs. John T. Ward, San Ysidro road. Topic for discussion, "Miriam." Leader, Mrs. Leo Lang. Every one interested cordially invited.

Town Meeting

It is expected that there will be a Riley program at the town meeting in the near future. Mr. C. H. Clark read a beautiful selection taken from Riley's poems, at the opening of the town meeting. An announcement was made that G. J. Fischer will open a feed store Friday morning at the old Green stand, the store to be open mornings only.

John S. McGroarty was called to the chair to preside during the program of the evening furnished by Mr. Wilson and several of his young friends. Mr. McGroarty paid a beautiful tribute to the sentiment and conduct that should govern neighbor's treatment of each other. He considers Mr. Wilson a neighbor and makes no secret of his preference for him as supervisor of our district. A musical program was given before the speakers of the evening were introduced.

Mr. Thomas Branson presided in a very acceptable manner at the piano. Miss Irene Eicholz of San Fernando rendered a beautiful solo. Mr. Lue Halsett gave a baritone solo and very generously responded to several hearty encores, one of which "If You Don't Like Your Uncle Sammy" made a great hit with the audience. There were also beautiful dialect songs among the numbers.

Mr. Eicholz, secretary of Mr. Wilson's campaign, was then introduced. He spoke of Mr. Wilson's long residence in California and his wonderful success as a business man and of his honesty, integrity and ability. He gave some astonishing figures pertaining to the cost of administration of the county's affairs. Mr. Wilson expressed his determination to give, if elected, a fair, honest and impartial administration. He said because of the present waste of public funds that it requires 25,000,000 annually to run the county and that a little over half should do it and do it well if the waste were eliminated, and there would be plenty of money for all the improvements we are so sorely needing—good roads, bridges, flood water conservation and control. Six per cent of the gross income of the county at present is used for entertainment. The great waste of public funds is due to neglect and ignorance on the part of those in control was the statement of Mr. Wilson.

Captain Helms, candidate for District Attorney, will address the town meeting next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. West and niece, Miss Rosalind Chase, and Miss Lois Wieman, were guests over Sunday at the

LA CRESCENTA

Mr. H. D. Johnson, owner of the La Crescenta Springs Water Co., has recently sold his business to the Holly Springs Water Co. of Los Angeles.

Mr. Mac Slusher, who has lived in this valley for the past three years, has gone to reside in Los Angeles. He has accepted a position in the store of his brother-in-law, Mr. Fred Scott.

Mr. Roy Johnson and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Bauer and daughter, motored from Los Angeles and spent Sunday with Mr. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Johnson.

The Johnson and Irwin families, accompanied by Miss Hinnen, picnicked in the Arroyo Seco Friday, July 21.

The Goss Canyon Water Co. has employed C. J. Andresen to sink a well in Goss canyon. Work will be started immediately.

Miss Lola E. Nolte and Miss Lena Gonnerman of Mt. Vernon, Ind., are spending a month with Mrs. Edward Nettleton of Mayfield avenue.

Miss Lena Fisher of Montrose has gone east for a two months' visit among friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetherbee, Dana Wetherbee, Mrs. Katherine Gray and daughter, Mrs. Fletcher and daughter, made an enjoyable trip to the aqueduct Sunday in the Wetherbee's auto.

Mrs. Blumchild's Ford, with the seats filled and overflowing, made the same trip. All report a pleasant drive.

The efficient workers of the Ladies' Aid gave a dinner last Friday night, at which they netted twenty-three dollars to apply on the piano payments.

Little Mary Ellen Haines, who reached the mature age of four on July 21st, gave a party on that date to a number of her little friends.

Dr. Rudy, who is summering with his family in La Crescenta, is spending three days hunting and fishing in Little Bear valley.

The following registration will show that the Fairmount Hotel is doing good business: Mr. and Mrs. Kercheval, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. Smailes, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Pales, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. G. Evan Peoples, Los Angeles; Mrs. T. J. Fambrough, Glendale; E. W. Northrup, Alhambra; Miss M. A. Stratford, Pasadena; Miss Elsie Allen, Pasadena; Gran W. Cahoon, Los Angeles; C. D. Cahoon, Los Angeles; Anna B. Lefler, Los Angeles; Grace Lefler, Los Angeles; Mrs. S. B. Simes, Philadelphia; Mrs. Johnson, Philadelphia; Mrs. L. N. Rudy and son, Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Eshman, Los Angeles; Miss Caroline Eshman, Los Angeles; Mrs. Geo. P. Griffith, Los Angeles; Mrs. A. G. Page, Los Angeles; Miss Decatur Page, Los Angeles; Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Mixsell, Pasadena.

This increase in business is not to be wondered at as the hotel grows better known and its friends more numerous. It might be added that every guest that registers is a friend and that is the best "ad" the hotel could have.

Mr. Howard Reynolds, Mr. Brown, Jr., and Rev. Hopping took an all-day hike to Switzer's Camp, returning "as the shadows fell."

On Wednesday evening, July 19, through the courtesy of Mrs. Hanger, a meeting of the cast of the play, "Owin' to Maggie," was held at the Fairmount Hotel. The entertainment will be given at the La Crescenta school house on August 12, and the money raised will be given to the Woman's club of La Crescenta for the French orphan that they have "adopted."

Woman's Club

The Woman's club of La Crescenta will give an entertainment Friday, August 11. There will be an excellent program of music and an entertaining playlet. Ice cream, cakes and coffee will be served. Everybody is heartily invited.

The Rev. Henry A. Rudin of Burbank preached at the Presbyterian church here last Sunday morning and evening and the Rev. Hopping preached in the Burbank Presbyterian church.

Mr. Howard Reynolds, Mr. Harry Brown and the Rev. Mr. Hopping went on a tramp Tuesday morning up the Arroyo Seco. The scenery is so beautiful and the tramping so easy that they kept going on till they reached Switzer's camp. After resting there an hour and viewing the falls they returned and got home in time for supper. On the way up they were within a few feet of two deer that were down by the creek drinking. The deer were as much surprised as the men and lost no time in getting away.

The people of the community will have the privilege of listening to Mr. W. W. Youell of Los Angeles next Sunday morning and evening, the 30th inst., at the church. Mr. Youell is an earnest Christian business man and a fine speaker; a man with a message. Everybody is invited to these services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

SUNLAND

In honor of Miss Emma Terrell of Alhambra, Mrs. Geo. Bernhard entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Summet avenue. A very pleasant time was spent. Mrs. Bernhard served dainty refreshments late in the afternoon. Those enjoying the hospitality were Mrs. Fred Frisbee, Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. H. Branstetter, Mrs. A. T. Blumfield, Miss Marie Lancaster, Mrs. C. D. Percy, Mrs. Geo. Huse.

Mrs. Lanning and son of Waco, Texas, who have been visiting at the home of A. P. Smyth, left for their home Monday.

Miss Carrie Adams and sister Leta returned home Saturday, after spending two weeks at the home of Mr. Maygrove at Catalina Island.

Rev. John Wornum occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. Rev. Wester, the pastor, is away on his vacation. The Young People's society of Christian Endeavor had charge of the evening services.

Geo. Bernhard leaves for Napa, Cal., for a two weeks visit with his parents.

Mrs. Daisy Reinhart and son Hallie of Tucson, Ariz., are being entertained at the home of Mrs. Lou Johnson.

Miss Menita Huse spent Sunday in Los Angeles, the guest of Mrs. Letty Hartranft.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church met in the park Wednesday morning at 8:30 with baskets heavily laden. Autos were in waiting, which were soon filled and the ladies motored to Brookside park, Pasadena, where a very pleasant day was spent.

The county forester has finished the work of trimming and doctoring the big oaks in the park. The park looks like it had experienced a housecleaning. The cool shade of our park is certainly appreciated by travelers and picnic parties, not only on Sundays but during the week.

Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Frisbee and Mrs. Geo. Bernhard are spending the week-end at Long Beach, the guests of friends of Mrs. Harding.

It is with deep regret we note the death of Mrs. Gertie Cole, wife of Bob Cole of Los Angeles, who died at the Angeles Hospital Friday, the 21st. We remember Bob Cole as one of the pioneer stage boys. Coming to Sunland with Ed Thomas and running the stage between Sunland and Glendale. Bob's friends in Sunland all sympathize with him in his great sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corey and daughter Mildred, Earl Sims and Ed Thomas attended the funeral at the Sacred Heart church, Los Angeles, Monday, the 24th. Ed Thomas and Earl Sims acted as pall bearers.

The hotels and cottages in Sunland are filled with guests.

Mr. J. E. Graham has completed a fine tennis court for the use of his guests at the Oak Home Ranch.

Mrs. Frank Buck and son Sabin are at the Monte Vista Tavern for a month's stay.

Quite a number of the Sunland boys are helping our forest ranger, Frank Cunningham, build trails up the Big Tujunga.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blumfield are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Tench, in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Anna Thomas has returned home from Los Angeles, after a couple of months' visit with her niece, Mrs. Craine.

Mr. A. D. Kirchman's new house on Walnut Drive is nearing completion. This is going to be a beautiful place and adds to the attraction of Sunland.

Mr. Everett Eagler has taken over the Times route. After the first of August you can have your Times for breakfast as they will be in Sunland ready for delivery at six o'clock. So the improvements go on.

Frank Okobo has started a fresh vegetable and fruit route through Sunland, Littlelands and Hansen Heights.

QUEER GRASS

It is said that in New Guinea there is a remarkable variety of grass that makes such fierce warfare upon other kinds of vegetation that practically nothing else grows where it gets a foothold. The natives call is "alang." It has a tall, thick and tough stalk, but its greatest peculiarity is its roots, which spread out through every particle of earth they reach, changing it into a matted texture something like felt. There is really no room left for the roots of any other kind of vegetation. Large patches of alang are found surrounded by timber, and remain there like islands, for no trees will grow in them.—Exchange.

He is with thee! In thy dwelling
Shielding thee from fear or ill;
All thy burdens kindly bearing,
For thy dear ones gently caring.
Guarding, keeping, blessing still.

WEATHER PROPHETS AMONG THE ANIMALS

We have a good many weather prophets among the insects, birds, and animals, although they act unconsciously, or instinctively, in that capacity. Before a storm sea-gulls gather on the land in search of food, because the rain brings the worms to the surface. The swallow flies high in fine weather, but skims the ground before a bad spell—and this also is in search of food. For the swallow follows the gnats and flies, and they go high or low with the warm strata of the air. The common spider changes his web before rainy or windy weather, making the supports shorter and stronger, and lengthens them again when the storm is over. Even our familiar barnyard animals have ways of indicating when rain is coming. Sheep bleat and skip restlessly about, hogs running loose come squealing and grunting to the barnyard, colts rub their backs upon the ground, and oxen lick themselves the wrong way of the hair. Flies always try to get into the house, crickets chirp more loudly, dogs nibble at the grass, frogs croak and change their bright color to a dingier shade, and crows gather in great crowds.

These animals are not intentionally weather prophets, but by studying them and learning their customs, we can foretell a change in the weather with reasonable accuracy.

A GOOD RESOLVE

To do the best that human endeavor can render at all times and in all places; not as in the sight of men, but as in the sight of God; freely, without favor; frankly, without reserve; hopefully, without gloom; trustfully, without doubt; so that Jesus my Master may add his smile and benediction.
